

Stuart Hodkinson

Stuart Hodkinson is a Lecturer in Critical Urban Geography. His main research focus is on the 'new urban enclosures' with a specific interest in the politics, policies and day-to-day realities of housing privatisation, urban regeneration and state-led gentrification in the UK. He is currently leading an ESRC-funded project exploring residents' experiences of public housing / estate regeneration under the controversial Private Finance Initiative (PFI). He is also involved in an ESRC-funded project investigating the forced labour experiences of asylum seekers and refugees living in the Yorkshire and Humber region.